She admitted that she might have flaunted her love for Roy before her husband; that she might have rebuffed him and refused his love; that he might have pointed out to her

"I studied this religion diligently" she said "and it made me feel that I was utterly wrong. It made me turn my eyes from him to me, and made me use those expressions. I was utterly crushed by the impossible situation brought about by his friendship with Mrs. Mattern."

LeRoy Matters' Confession Indicates

Matters' Sept. 1928 Floor Plays Former Wife of Minister

Former Wife of Minister Declares State of Health Had Rendered Her Erratic in Written Statements

By J. S. COWPER

Despite the signed "confession" she gave to her husband, her tact admissions that she had been more or less in love with LeRoy Matters and had spent one night at the Flanagan Hotel, Saskatoon, in the same bedroom as Matters in order to supply evidence for the McPherson and Matters divorce suits, Mrs. Cora McPherson, ex-wife of the Minister of Public Works, stoutly maintained in the witness box on Wednesday afternoon that she had been devoid of marital wrongdoing with Matters.

S. B. Woods, K.C., leading counsel for Hon. O. L. McPherson charged by his ex-wife with having obtained her divorce by collusion with her, subjected Mrs. McPherson to a severe grilling on the stand. Like a bulldog with his teeth in the meat of phrases taken from letters the plaintiff had written her husband, she refused to budge. She had been married to the Minister of Public Works for 12 years, and after Mr. Woods' grilling on and dragged the plaintiff back to the bite of his question again and again when the witness gave an evasive answer or professed inability to remember.

Emphatic in Denials

The witness, showing remarkable self-possession under the most difficult strain, stated only where admissions were sought that she had had a deep affection for Matters. At one time when the question was as to whether she and Matters had been in love, she replied, "I was in love with him, but not in the way that you mean." Pressed by Mr. Woods to admit that when she wrote, "It would kill me to give him up," that she had been deeply in love with him, she finally said, "I was in love with him."

On the question of whether improper relations had existed between her and Roy Matters the witness was emphatic in her denials. She said that her state health had been such that she had been unable to have any relations with her husband's home and she had occupied separate rooms at her request. What she had liked her husband to do was to have her in his home, but she always "behaved as a gentleman" to her, and not been aggressive.

Her story of the Roy Matters hotel episode was that after it had been arranged that Roy Matters should come to Saskatoon and be followed by a detective to get the divorce evidence, she met Matters at the flying field on his arrival on Saturday afternoon. After a drive and conversation they went to the Flanagan Hotel. Matters registered for the pair. After they had reached the room that night, Matters told her that he had looked around the hotel, but the detective had not arrived. Matters then went back to her own room. On the following morning, next morning between 7 and 8 when Matters was fully dressed.

Matters Slept on Floor

Next evening, learning that the detective was registered in the house, she and Matters went to room 31 together. There they slept together, she testified. "I occupied the bed," she said, "and he slept on the floor. He had a blanket and pillow and he was comfortable for the night on the floor."

When asked to explain the questions about their relations up to the time when the divorce absolute was granted, To all he received denials of marital wrongdoing. He was about to put a question to the witness in regard to her conduct since the date of the final order in her husband's divorce suit when he was stopped by His Lordship, just as the plaintiff's counsel, Neil D. Maclean, K.C., rose to object. "Nothing that has happened since the date of the divorce absolute at all," declared the witness, "and I am sure that Mr. Woods on a moment's reflection agreed."

In this connection Mr. Woods has pointed out to the Bulletin that the register of the Flanagan Hotel, which probably indicated that the letter of his client urging Mr. McPherson to "be what he (Roy Matters) wants you to be" was written after the divorce proceedings and carried a contradictory divorce absolute.

Reference to the court record shows the letter to be undated.

Husband Was Go-Left

One sensation that left the public unmoved, but came as a bombshell to counsel, was when near the close of the afternoon examination of Mrs. McPherson, she was asked by her husband, before the divorce decree was made absolute, whether she and Roy Matters at Winnipeg, and endeavored to head her an estrangement between them. The legal effect of this question may be great.

Neil D. Maclean, K.C., and George H. Van Allen, K.C., counsel for Mrs. McPherson, were taken by surprise, as their client had omitted to mention to them this highly important point of her story, the significance of which probably did not appreciate. It only came out in cross-examination.

At the Wednesday afternoon session, following the instruction of Mr. Justice Ford that only the cross-examination in the courtroom could be filled, cross-examination of Mrs. McPherson was resumed, and with two or three exceptions, all women, and the public enclosure.

Still Under Cross-Examination

Mrs. Cora McPherson had been taken over a small portion of her testimony when the court adjourned on Wednesday evening. She will be in the witness box under cross-examination all Thursday morning, and possibly all day. She will be followed by her sister, Mrs. J. W. Ford, who has been her constant companion during the proceedings.

From a statement made by S. B. Woods, K.C., it is made clear that Mrs. Helen McPherson, present wife of the Minister of Public Works, is a party to the alleged collusion, but will be a witness. Her former husband LeRoy Matters has been an attendant at the court room and has been questioned by the defense.

Following are the opening highlights of the cross-examination of the plaintiff by opposing counsel S. B. Woods, K.C., CROSS EXAMINATION OF MRS. CORA MCPHERSON BY MR. WOODS.

Canadian Davis Cup Stars In Singles Matches Today

NUNNS NAMED WITH WRIGHT AGAINST CUBA

Toronto Youth's Selection Over Rainville Causes Surprise

HOT SPRINGS, Va. May 11—Gilbert Nunn, youngest member of Canada's Davis Cup team to meet Cuba, and Dr. Jack Wright, Vancouver veteran, will carry the Dominion's colors in the singles matches today against the tennis stars of Cuba.

Wright, who has been a member of every Canadian Davis Cup team for 10 years, will tilt Billie Jean King, Cuban captain who in private life is an architect, while Nunn will cross rackets with Lorenzo Nodare, a student at the University of Havana.

Selection of Nunn for the singles competition instead of the veteran Davis Cup player, Marcel Rainville of Montreal, caused surprise here, although the young Canadian star appeared in fine form in defeating Rainville Tuesday in a practice round.

Garnett H. McInnes of Toronto, the non-playing Canadian captain, said Rainville probably would be used for doubles competition only. He would not name the doubles team, yesterday.

Here predicted Rainville would be matched with Wright in the doubles for Canada against Morales and the 20-year-old Arthur Bandin.

Both teams tapered off yesterday and were in fine condition for the match. Incidentally, the Davis Cup rules the order of the singles games will be reversed Saturday with Nunn meeting Morales and Wright engaging Nodare.

EDMONTON Stars To Oppose Grads

Four Squads Stage Battle Of Softball

Seven Entered With Six To Be Finally Accepted

Included in the galaxy of stars who will arrive in the city early tomorrow morning from Chicago are the two prepossessing young ladies in the adjoining columns—Miss Madge Kline and Miss Evelyn Kruback.

Both these young ladies were included in last year's "Red Devil" line-up and made a most favorable impression upon the fans out at the arena. Miss Kline, especially, is one of the outstanding forwards in the United States, and has been mentioned in every lineup for the mythical All-American line-up selected by press and sports writers in and around Chicago.

Miss Kruback is another forward who has come along like a house after during the last couple of years. One of the youngest members of the team, she has "shown the show" from her older and more famous sister Violet, center player on the original "Taylor-Trunks."

Both teams tapered off yesterday and were in fine condition for the match. Incidentally, the Davis Cup rules the order of the singles games will be reversed Saturday with Nunn meeting Morales and Wright engaging Nodare.

BALTIMORE, May 11—An almost sensation workout yesterday, Mrs. S. Mason's sterling colt, Head Play, was followed by many to be the likely favorite when a select group of thoroughbred goes to the post in the Preakness Stakes tomorrow.

Head Play, bred around a muddy track at Pimlico in fast time until his speed was purposely checked by Jockey Art Steffen.

ON CHARLES TODD

Now that the weather is clearing up we can look forward to that old game of tennis or softball. Most of the high school courts are in condition. The various schools are busy organizing their softball and baseball teams for the coming season.

The young ladies at Vile have organized a group of softball teams and have a schedule of play drawn up. This league includes the answers but not outside schools.

The league was started due to the efforts of Mr. Willis. It is not an unusual sight around Vile to see Mr. Willis and his girls warming up for future games. Mr. Willis is an athletic teacher as well as a coach.

France Plans Colonial Trade Treaties

WILL FOLLOW LEAD SET AT OTTAWA MEET

First Steps to be Taken at Conference in Paris May 18

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
PARIS, May 11.—France plans to take a leaf from Ottawa's note book. Inspired by the agreement signed during the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa last summer France is looking to an economic organization of her colonial empire which is expected to be set up by the end of the year.
The first step it is hoped will be taken at a conference which opens in Paris May 18 under the chairmanship of Senator Clément, former minister of commerce and colonies and president of the Comité National des Conseillers de Commerce Extérieur, which is organizing the conference.
The conference will consider tariff, short-term credits, communications by air, sea and land, telegraphs and wireless.

No Taxes Will be Paid Until Dollar Represents its Value

MONTEVIDEO, Uru., May 11.—Members of the Minnesota farm holiday association prepared today to join farmers of other northwest states in a national farm strike Saturday, after demanding that President Roosevelt remove Secretary of Agriculture Wallace from office.
The attack on Mr. Wallace came late yesterday through a resolution adopted by the state association delegates asserting the secretary had not been in "sympathy" with efforts to guarantee the farmers the cost of production through national legislation.
It also was decided by the 4,000 convention delegates, who Monday voted a farm strike, they would not pay interest, taxes or other debts until the American dollar became an "honest measure of value."

RIOT CONVICT DESCRIBED AS PEACE-MAKER

Defense Concludes Case for Murray Kirkland—Charge Abuses

KINGSTON, Ont. May 11.—A defense lawyer has completed its evidence in the case of convict Murray Kirkland, charged with rioting during the October 1929 disturbances at Kingston penitentiary, when 300 prisoners took practical control of the industrial section of the prison.
Kirkland acted in the role of peace-maker and had nothing to do with the operation of an acetylene torch with which locks were burned out from the doors of the prison.
Kirkland took the stand and told the court the prisoners had rioted because they wanted abolition of punishment, segregation of contagious disease cases, cigarette passes, newspapers, and end to crowding of better class inmates, and abolition of the "piddle" in wardens' court.
Kirkland charged he had been "crucified" by the prison.
